DEPARTMENT OF UZBEK AND RUSSIAN LANGUAGES

The Department of Uzbek and Russian Languages during 1955-1980 was called the Department of Russian and Foreign Languages. In connection with the organization in 1980 of the department of foreign languages, and in 1989 in connection with the assignment of the status of the state language to the Uzbek language, from the 1990-1991 academic year it became known as the department of Uzbek and Russian languages. The head of the department from 1955 to 1971 was M.E. Krukovskaya-Runskaya. The department of Uzbek and Russian languages was supervised by senior lecturer Sviridova A.E. (1971-1975), Candidates of Philological Sciences, Associate Professors Kostromina O.E. (1975-1980), V.M. Abdullaev (1980-1991), N.K. Yakubova (1991-2003). Currently it is directed by Associate Professor Abdullayeva S.Kh.

In 1986, a special group of teachers was created to work with foreign exchange students. It was headed by senior lecturer I.M. Abakova. Among the teachers, who taught foreigners from 25 countries of the world the Russian language, were senior teachers Khalimova R.S., Khasanova L.D., Khamdam-Zoda L.Kh. Teachers of the department take an active part in the educational work of students; in the Uzbek and Russian languages they conduct literary readings dedicated to famous figures of science and art. Teachers of the department are obligatory participants in the preparation and holding of the days of the state language. In order to provide students with a deeper knowledge of technical terms for Russian-speaking groups in the Uzbek language, and for groups with the Uzbek language of instruction in Russian, collections of technical texts on telecommunications, information technology, postal services, economics and management, as well as methodological manuals are published, with the help of who conduct practical exercises. In addition, the teachers of the department for independent work and its implementation in the educational process prepared dozens of manuals, dictionaries, collections of exercises. The department conducts classes in three disciplines: “академик ёзув” (academic writing in Uzbek), “академическое письмо” (academic writing in Russian) and “русский язык как иностранный” (Russian as a foreign language). The department has developed teaching aids in Russian and Uzbek. The teachers of the department teach “русский язык как иностранный” (or Russian as a foreign language) at the joint faculty of information technology of TUIT-BSUIR.

Currently, the department is headed by the 2 associate professors, and resided by 3 senior teachers, and 3 trainee teachers. The teachers of the department cooperate with the Institute of Language and Literature of the Academy of Sciences of the Republic of Uzbekistan, National University of Uzbekistan, the Uzbek State University of World Languages, and the Tashkent Institute of Higher Pedagogy.
